Fulfilling the Mitzvah “Matanot L’Evyonim” (donations to those in need)

The students of the Learning and Engagement Center, in conjunction with DRC Solutions, fulfilled the mitzvah of donating to those in need on Sunday, March 24, 2019. They collected and delivered furniture and household items to a family in need. Through their efforts, they helped turn an apartment into a home. Thank you to everyone who donated their resources, time and energy to this project.

FROM OUR RABBI

The words Chag Kasher V'samech (Happy and Kosher Holiday) are the common greeting that Jews all over the world offer one to the other in the days leading up to Passover.

Therefore, let me first wish all of us and Klal Yisrael (the people of Israel) a happy and healthy Passover. May God bless your homes and your seders. One question that I receive each year without fail is; can rice and legumes be eaten during Passover? In order to answer this question I am offering up below a responsa (halachick opinion) written by Rabbi David Golinkin for the Law Committee of Israel. It is my hope that his responsa will help to answer this question and bring clarity to the issues surrounding the consumption of legumes during Passover.

Should you like to discuss this issue more in depth, please feel free to contact me at anytime.

Michal, Daniel, Maya, Lia, Rocky and myself would like to wish everyone a Chag Kasher V'samech.

Eating Kitniyot (Legumes) on Pesach (OH 453:1)

Question:

In light of the ingathering of the exiles, would it be possible to eliminate the Ashkenazic custom of not eating legumes on Pesach?

Responsum:

1) In our opinion it is permitted (and perhaps even obligatory) to eliminate this custom. It is in direct contradiction to an explicit decision in the Babylonian Talmud (Pesachim 114b) and is also in contradiction to the opinion of all the sages of the Mishnah and Talmud except one (R. Yochanan ben Nuri, Pesachim 35a and parallels). It also contradicts the theory and the practice of the Amoraim both in Babylonia and in Israel (Pesachim 114b and other sources), the Geonim (Sheiltot, Halakhot Pesukot, Halakhot Gedolot, etc.) and of most of the early medieval authorities in all countries (altogether more than 50 Rishonim!).

2) This custom is mentioned for the first time in France and Provence in the beginning of the thirteenth century by R. Asher of Lunel, R. Samuel of Falaise, and R. Peretz of Corbeil - from there it spread to various countries and the list of prohibited foods continued to expand. Nevertheless, the reason for the custom was unknown and as a result many sages invented at least eleven different explanations for the custom. As a result, R. Samuel of Falaise, one of the first to mention it, referred to it as a "mistaken custom" and R. Yerucham called it a "foolish custom."

3) Therefore, the main halakhic question in this case is whether it is permissible to do away with a mistaken or foolish custom. Many rabbinic authorities have ruled that it is permitted (and perhaps even obligatory) to do away with this type of "foolish custom" (R. Abin in Yerushalmi Pesahim, Maimonides, the Rosh, the Ribash, and many others). Furthermore, there are many good reasons to do away with this "foolish custom": a) It detracts from the joy of the holiday by limiting the number of permitted foods; b) It causes exorbitant price rises, which result in "major financial loss" and, as is well known, "the Torah takes pity on the people of Israel's money"; c) It emphasizes the insignificant (legumes) and ignores the significant (hametz, which is forbidden from the five kinds of grain); d) It causes people to scoff at the commandments in general and at the prohibition of hametz in particular - if this custom has no purpose and is observed, then there is no reason to observe other commandments; e) Finally, it causes unnecessary divisions between Israel's different ethnic groups. On the other hand, there is only one reason to observe this custom: the desire to preserve an old custom. Obviously, this desire does not override all that was mentioned above. Therefore, both Ashkenazim and Sephardim are permitted to eat legumes and rice on Pesach without fear of transgressing any prohibition.

4) Undoubtedly, there will be Ashkenazim who will want to stick to the "custom of their ancestors" even though they know that it is permitted to eat legumes on Pesach. To them we recommend that they observe only the original custom of not eating rice and legumes but that they use oil from legumes and all the other foods "forbidden" over the years, such as peas, beans, garlic, mustard, sunflower seeds, peanuts etc. Thus they will be able to eat hundreds of products, which bear the label "Kosher for Pesach for those who eat legumes." This will make their lives easier and will add joy and pleasure to their observance of Pesach.

FROM OUR EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

I recently attended the annual international conference of the North American Association of Synagogue Executives. The conference theme was “Innovation and Continuation: Peering over the Horizon, Preparing for the Next Five Years.”

This immersive conference included a series of dynamic speakers, engaging panels, and carefully tailored study sessions and keynote presentations from experts in various related fields. The conference offers strong peer connections in the synagogue director network, and can enrich professional skills and knowledge bases critical to the field of synagogue administration, thereby ensuring the highest level of service to North America congregations.

In addition to expert presenters, we had the opportunity to learn from one another in a very unique setting known as “NAASE University.” This is a fast paced component of the conference offering opportunity for small group, face to face, and in depth exploration of timely topics and issues.

I have found that CAS is not much different from other synagogues, and our concerns, hopes and dreams mirror so many others. We all are interested in engaging our members, providing a warm and safe environment, and encouraging individual spiritual growth.

I hope that you plan on joining us for the second night Passover Seder as we expand our family of families.

PRESIDENT'S DESK

Sholom. My best wishes to everyone for a beautiful Pesach. It's one of the most wonderful traditions we practice in Judaism and a grand opportunity to gather friends and family together (and an occasional stranger) to make memories. Enjoy. Remember. Enjoy.

I want to thank all those who help our synagogue operate all year long. I suspect that most congregants are unaware of or have forgotten the complexity of our organization with its many working parts. I can easily count 100 individuals who frequently help make things work as solo contributors or members of an active committee.

Committees are an essential part of our success and we have many including: Education, Youth, Membership, Cemetery, Investments and Endowments Funds, Budget and Finance, House, Audit and our Board of Directors. The Ritual Committee and all those who help organize or lead our weekday and Shabbat services deserve special recognition.

Some CAS committees are more visible but every committee serves a very important function. In addition, I want recognize the role of the Ladies Auxiliary and Men's Club; two groups that provide leadership, plan many events and provide important funds to CAS. Finally, I don't want to forget the many solo contributors who help cook, maintain our building, maintain our cemetery, repair prayers books, and all those who provide funds when unexpected expenses occur.

While naming our various committees and recognizing our solo volunteers, I have purposely avoided naming individuals. The list of individuals is very long and there is a high probability that I will inadvertently omit someone who deserves praise. I want to thank all those who have donated their time and resources to the synagogue. Your efforts are essential and we are very grateful.

Finally, I want to recognize and thank our wonderful clergy and staff. Without our Rabbi, Executive Director, Administrative Assistant, Bookkeeper, Kitchen and Maintenance Staff, the work of our volunteers would be much more difficult or impossible. Thank you.

As always, your ideas and questions are welcome. Let me hear from you.

Dr. Julian Haber will soon begin work on Volume 3 of They Were Soldiers in Peace and War. These are his areas of focus:

- ◆ Veterans who were not covered in Vol. 1 or 2. Even a relative's interesting experiences in the military from WWII and onward, and/or pictures would also be helpful as would soldiers currently serving.
- ◆ Allied veterans: Israel, England, France, etc, - Dr. Haber is looking for Jewish persons that served in the old Soviet Union Army for a prospective of how they were treated as a Jewish person in the armed forces.
- ◆ An additional section will be letters to the home front for the time period of WWI forward.
- ◆ All these veterans may have served in peacetime or in war.

Please contact Dr. Haber, or call the shul office at 817-731-4721.

Centuries-Old Hebrew Books On Display at TCU

by Hollace Weiner, Fort Worth Jewish Archives

An exhibit of 500-year-old Jewish books and Talmudic tractates will be on display at Texas Christian University April 2 through May 22 in the Special Collections section of the campus library.

These rare books, exquisitely illustrated and printed in Hebrew, Aramaic, and Latin, were among a trove of 10,000 books that the university purchased from an aging Cincinnati scholar in 2001. At that time, TCU's Brite Divinity School was establishing a Program in Jewish Studies and acquired the books as the core of its Judaica collection.

The exhibit, which is free to the public, is opening in conjunction with a guest lecture at 7 p.m., April 2, from Vanderbilt University Prof. David H. Price. He will speak in the library's Gearhart Reading Room on "Christian Hebraism and the Survival of Judaism: Two Perspectives." The Louis and Frieda Cristol Endowment for Academic Programming in Jewish Studies is sponsoring the lecture.

For a special tour of the exhibit prior to the lecture, meet at the East Entrance to the TCU Library at 5:50 p.m., April 2. Free parking is available at non-reserved lots after 5 p.m.

The Judaica exhibit includes a tractate from the Talmud dealing with the holiday of Shavuot. It was published in Venice in 1526 by pioneer printer Daniel Bomberg, a Christian whose template for laying out multiple Talmudic discussions on the printed page is still followed.

Another Bomberg manuscript in the exhibit is Yalkut Shmoni, a midrashic anthology on the bible. This artistically printed piece of literature from the Bomberg press was published in Venice in 1566.

Also in the display are works in Latin by Johann Buxtorf, a 17th century Swiss scholar of Hebrew. Although a Protestant, Buxtorf was dubbed a "Master of the Rabbis." Among his books in the exhibit is a thesaurus of Hebrew terms.

The director of the Jewish Studies Program at Brite is Dr. Ariel Friedman, a congregant at Ahavath Sholom and TCU's Rosalyn and Manny Rosenthal Associate Professor of Jewish Studies. The rare books, gathered by the late Rabbi Israel Otto Lehman, was purchased by the program's founding director Dr. David Nelson.

This page from the Babylonian Talmud, printed in Venice in 1527, is part of a rare Jewish book exhibit at the TCU Library from April 2 to May 22. This illustration is from Tractate Horayoth.
