FROM OUR RABBI

Reflections on Judaism's view regarding Civil Rights, Community Strife and Fears of Abandonment and healing in light of Atatiana Jefferson's tragic death.

"A friend loves at all times, and a brother is born for a time of adversity." (Proverbs 17:17)

Early during Shabbat mornings services on October 12th, I received reports about the tragic shooting and death of Atatiana Jefferson at the hands of former FWPD Officer Aaron Dean, who in the interim has been arrested and charged with murder.

While emotions remain high, assumptions about the FWPD and city leaders are being made and blame being spreading around towards individuals and groups, I must say that we must not let the actions of a few individuals such as Aaron Dean define an entire city and community. Unfortunately, and with great sorrow, we cannot bring Ms. Jefferson back to life, but we can in her memory, help deepen the bonds between us by "loving our neighbor" instead of fraying the bonds that bind us together as creations of God.

How do we do this? We do this by seeing the image of God within each of us and acting on that image instead of denying God's image in others who may not look, think or believe like ourselves. For only when we come together, will such atrocities like the death of Atatiana Jefferson become a single aberration within the multitude of morality that our communities are built upon.

In light of this horrific death, I am reminded of the teachings of Rabbi Abraham Joshua Heschel. Heschel (1907-1972) was a Polish survivor of the Holocaust who was arrested by the Gestapo in October of 1938 and fled the Nazis in 1939. Upon coming to America, he became a leading religious figure and civil rights activist who marched and partnered with Martin Luther King JR. In the fight for civil rights. In today's times of upheaval and the fracturing of communities, I believe that it is important that we remember his words.

Heschel believed that "A religious man is a person who holds God and man in one thought at one time, at all times, who suffers harm done to others, whose greatest passion is compassion, whose greatest strength is love and defiance of despair." In other words, when one person hurts, we all hurt, and when injustice occurs it is felt within all communities. Communities are hurting today!

Heschel went on to say that, "Racism [Anti-Semitism and all other prejudices with an 'ism' at the end of the word] is man's gravest threat to man - the maximum of hatred for a minimum of reason." However, this minimum of "reason," must be our "reason" to join the struggle for mutual respect among us all. For as Heschel said while standing next to MLK Jr. "God is every man's pedigree. He is either the Father of all men or of no man. The image of God is either in every man or in no man.... God's covenant is with all men, and we must never be oblivious of the equality of the divine dignity of all men."

Let us also remember, that "In light of pain, healing eventually comes."

Who leads this healing irrespective of this pain is in our own personal or communal lives? We do! For as the Civil Rights leader Ralph Abernathy once taught, "I don't know what the future may hold, but I know who holds the future."

In other words, the future is in our hands! Thus, we must make the conscious decision to hold our futures with positivity. For we must always remember the words of the Deuteronomist, those being, "Be strong and courageous. Do not be afraid or terrified because of them, for the Lord your God goes with you; He will never leave you nor forsake you." (Deuteronomy 31:6) If God will never forsake us, neither should we forsake ourselves and a positive outlook towards our futures.

Let us as a synagogue and community all work together so that God's image and man's dignity grows within each of us, not only in times of trouble and travail but rather lives within us at all times.

On behalf of us all, I pray that God will bring comfort to Ms. Jefferson's family, support and love to her nephew and healing to our entire city. May the memory of Atatiana Jefferson be for a blessing now and forever more.

B'Shalom and Friendship,

Rabbi Andrew Bloom

FROM OUR HAZZAN

The Lord is my Guitar String

A Poem by
Hazzan Jeffrey Weber

The Lord is my Guitar string on which I play the music of life. It is the connection from Head and Neck to Body. Though we now construct it of various components, Steel at the core and Silk wound around, in days long ago it was a string of flesh, part of the earth, part of life, not just some construct that we created to suit our needs.

The base of the string, connected at the center of the body, the heart, is the beginning, as we try to twist the other end around our heads, our minds, in order to feel that we can complete the connection and have some control over it. Though we tighten and loosen to change the pitch, it will always be the same string that was played on by our ancestors, be it on the guitar, the lute, or the harp.

My string is one that can sound alone but, when played in concert with its' surrounding components, brings together the music. It is the highs and the lows, the bright and the dark. It is the basis of all of the music, but cannot be played without someone to play and to hear and to feel.

Play upon the string and it will be part of you forever. Play not upon it and it will still be there for you. Pluck it and the sound begins and can be built upon as the foundation of our "music" both great and individual. Write a ballad or a symphony, tell a story or build a prayer, the string is the center from which it all begins and ends. Play upon that string, as it is connected to all that has been and shall be.

Fort Worth Memories II

Just in time for Chanukah, the Star-Telegram is publishing Fort Worth Memories II: The 1940s, '50s, and '60s, a picture book that includes more than 25 photos from the Fort Worth Jewish Archives.

The Fort Worth Jewish Archives was among the "partners" who helped produce and proofread the slender, 136-page volume. The book's managing editor spent an afternoon in the archives, scanning dozens of pictures from which he made the final selections. The book, which includes pictures of JFK and Elvis when they visited Fort Worth, will be heavily advertised in the daily paper. For a limited time it may be ordered online at the pre-publication price of $29.95. Just google "Fort Worth Memories II."

FROM OUR EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

The human ear can distinguish sound between the frequencies of 20 Hertz to 20,000 Hertz. The range of human speech is between 1,000 Hertz and 5,000 Hertz. As we age, exposure to loud sounds, disco music, and the natural aging process there are some frequencies that we do not hear as well as we did in our youth. One may find that some conversations are often lost or misinterpreted. I am certain that you have been involved with asking or being asked a question and the response had not been associated with the question. There is also the phenomenon known as selective hearing; choosing to ignore what is being said, sometimes done on purpose other times it may be a result of fright.

You have Cancer! Three hollow words spoken by a medical professional. Anything said by the physician following those words are not heard or not understood as the mind begins to wander. Of course, we can substitute numerous diagnosis or a whole host of disorders, but the reaction is the same. Why me? What did I do? How long will I live? What do I do next? How do I tell my spouse, my children, my friends?

The bible addresses Leprosy more than three dozen times. Directions are provided about removal, cleanliness and separation. Today some of the same applications require similar processes to various situations. Medical facilities specialize in treating specific conditions with positive outcomes. If there is a downside to these specialized facilities it may be that they are located miles away, in another city or even in another state.

Some individuals may elect to carry this burden silently and alone, while others may be compelled to share their story with anyone willing to listen. I cannot help but wonder what happens to the person with no family or no close friend, how do they carry that weight alone?

By our own nature, we assume everyone around us is well and in good physical health. Of course, we do know those that are not as healthy as we would hope, but we know of their illness and are ready to provide support if asked. Most of us know many of our members especially those that typically participate in one or more of our services. How often do we realize when someone did not attend, or had not attended a number of consecutive services, and if we did, what did we do about it? Did we ask someone else, or did we pick up the telephone and call? As a member of an extended family, that is what each of us should do and not assume that someone else will make that call. It is better that six people make that phone call, than none.

We really are responsible for each other, and now that a new year has begun, start with a new chapter in your book of life with positive thoughts about all those you have contact. Think of others and do for others as you would hope that they would do for you!

Michael Linn

PRESIDENT'S DESK

Shalom. I hope you are enjoying the cooler weather and that you and your loved ones are doing well.

We have had a flurry of activities during the last few months thanks to the hard work of volunteers who participate in our committees, our staff and clergy. I particularly want to thank the Membership, Kitchen and Movie Committees as well as the Ladies' Auxiliary and Men's Club. Together, these groups have kept the calendar full of terrific events. The list includes the Benbrook Stable Fun Day, gatherings in the Sukkah and at Pinstripes, Ron Corning's visit and the Community Block Party. Each of these events were well planned and very enjoyable. In addition, the synagogue provided well organized Rosh Hashanah, Yom Kippur, Sukkot, Shemini Atzeret and Simchat Torah religious services, and, of course daily morning and evening services thanks to the Rabbi, Hazzan and the Religious Committee. In total, there has been lots to be proud of regarding the wide range of activities we offer our members.

Looking ahead, please mark your calendar for the many events listed throughout this month's Bulletin. There are also many initiatives under development that will be shared in the coming months. As was mentioned last month, I look forward to announcing significant progress concerning the Building Project and an impressive winter fundraising event.

Finally, I wanted to brag about the continued progress being made by the Learning and Engagement Center (LEC). I have heard so many wonderful comments by parents and students about the improvement in the program. Enrollment continues to increase and now have 51 children enrolled. Quite impressive!

Please remember to refer to the separate list of upcoming events in this Bulletin. Come join us!

Volunteers Needed

The Synagogue would greatly benefit from contributions of your time on a Committee and/or a specific activity. We need help. You can make a one-time commitment for a specific event or make a longer-term commitment.

Please contact Jerry Stein (817-909-2001) or Michael Linn (817-731-4721) if you have any questions or wish to volunteer your time.

SECURITY ANNOUNCEMENT

If you have ever flown on a plane, you are aware and accustomed to the announcement on how to use a seat belt, the emergency oxygen and the location of all the exits.

Safety and security within CAS are everyone's responsibility. Should there be a need to evacuate the building, please immediately follow the direction of Police, Rabbi, Executive Director or Board President.

If these individuals direct you to evacuate the building, please immediately follow the directions. Offer to assist others, but if they are not leaving, do not hesitate to exit yourself and do not worry about personal items.

We have established a Rally Point, the parking lot of the library if you can do so safely. If not, head south to the First Command building. First responders will verify who is at the Rally Point and if you are not there, it will be assumed that you are still in the building.

Take a moment and visualize the exits: There is an emergency exit in the glass wall of the chapel; there are exits near the sanctuary, and the school, and there is an exit at the south end of the building within the school wing. In addition, there are two exits (east and west) near the kitchen, and an exit from the Zale that leads to the area close to the flag pole.

FIRE: If there is a fire, the alarm will sound and signal lights will flash. There is a fire alarm pull station at the exit doors, and fire extinguishers located throughout the building. There are staff and members that are aware of the various emergency buttons.

Medical: There is an oxygen tank in the foyer, next to the entrance to the hall leading to the bimah. An AED is located opposite the synagogue office and a first aid kit is located in the area of the copy machine. Wheelchairs are located next to the kitchen in the Northeast part of the building.

POWER FAILURE: There is emergency lighting throughout the building that will turn on when there is a power failure.

OTHER EMERGENCY: Staff and some members are aware of the location of various emergency buttons through out the building. Should there be a need to utilize this system, or to protect from severe weather, you will be given specific directions to either shelter in place (Run-Hide-Fight) or to evacuate the building. Should evacuation be necessary, remember the Rally Point.

LEARNING & ENGAGEMENT CENTER

Daffodil Project

Last year, November 2018, the students of the Learning and Engagement Center participated in The Daffodil Project. They planted over 200 daffodils.

This year, the L&EC students are going to expand the garden and plant 200 more daffodils. These resilient, bright flowers that return each spring are part of the worldwide Living Holocaust Memorial honoring the memory of the 1.5 million children who perished in the Holocaust.
