As we approach
Passover, I remember a story about
David Ben Gurion.
Ben Gurion was the first prime minister of the State of Israel,
and he described
through a metaphor
the importance of the memories preserved on Pesach while at the same time arguing for the right to a Jewish State in 1947. He said, "Three hundred years ago, a ship called the Mayflower set sail to the New World. This was a great event in the history of England. Yet I wonder if there is one Englishman who knows at what time the ship set sail? Do the English know how many people embarked on this voyage? What quality of bread did they eat? Yet more than three thousand three hundred years ago, before the Mayflower set sail, the Jews left Egypt. Every Jew in the world, even in America or Soviet Russia, knows exactly what date they left (the fifteenth of the month of Nisan) and everyone knows what kind of bread (matzah) the Jews

ate. Even today, the Jews worldwide eat matza on the 15th of Nisan. They retell the story of the Exodus and all the troubles Jews have endured since being exiled. They conclude this evening with two statements: 'This year, slaves. Next year, free men. This year here. Next year in Jerusalem, in Zion, in Eretz Yisrael.
That is the nature of the Jews.'"

Based upon this story, we need to ask ourselves, what was Ben Gurion trying to teach the world through his metaphor? What was the moral of the story?
In my view, the answer is Jews around the world are connected to their history;
communally, religiously, and emotionally. We always remember important dates, especially those which have to do with redemption. We do this during the Passover Seder by retelling the story,
plagues, etc.

One of the most obvious and symbolic ways we do this during the Seder is drinking the four cups of wine which symbolizes our redemption.
The four cups of wine at the Seder correspond to the four expressions of redemption mentioned in Exodus 6:6-7.

- "Therefore, say to the children of Israel: 'I am the Lord, and I will bring you out.'" (V'hotzeti) - direct connection between God and Man.

- "From under the burdens of the Egyptians, and I will deliver you." (V'hitzalti) - direct remembrance of the story of Egypt.
- "From their bondage, and I will redeem you (V'ga'alti)
with an outstretched arm and with great judgment." - refers to the 10 plagues.
- "And I will take you (V'lakachti) to Me for a people, and I will be you a God." - refers to the renewed covenant and the 10 commandments.

In essence, the four cups of wine that we drink at the Seder commemorate our past redemption. Now that we see the four cups remind us of our past, is there possibly another cup that alludes to our future? The answer to this is, Yes. This being, The cup of "Eliyahu." For it symbolizes our future and ultimate redemption with the coming of the Messiah. According to the tradition, Eliyahu HaNavi will be the one to inform us of the Messiah's arrival.

Now we know and understand what the cups refer to and sit down to celebrate the Chag; we can think back to our common past and reflect a little upon our actions. We prepare ourselves for redemption, for which we shall pray
during the entirety of the holiday and the rest of the year.

On behalf of Michal, Daniel, Maya, Lia, Rocky, and myself, we wish everyone a Chag Kasher V'Samech (A Happy and Kosher Holiday).

B'shalom and Friendship,
Rabbi Andrew Bloom

Unfortunately, due to the ongoing war in Ukraine and the future uncertainty of a wider conflict, after communicating with our tour company and with much thought we have regrettably decided to postpone our trip until a more peaceful and conducive time for exploring Israel. Consequently, we will reschedule our planned trip to a date in the future which will be safer for all of us.

B'Shalom and Friendship,
Rabbi Andrew Bloom

FROM OUR HAZZAN

How do we define music as "Jewish Music"? Is it only liturgical music used in services? Is it folk songs? Is it always in Hebrew? Does it always have to do with a Jewish subject? Is it dance music? Is it theatre? Might it be connected to our traditions of styles of chanting from scrolls? These are all good questions, and there are good answers to these questions.

If you are interested in exploring several different ways in which our traditions and culture are a part of, and have influenced, the world around us, we have a class for you! Beginning on the first Sunday of April, I will be offering a weekly class that will delve into this fascinating subject. We will investigate the languages and styles which are part of our Jewish music; as well as different composers from long ago to more modern times.

Please join us here at CAS for our first class on Sunday, April 3, 2022, at 11:30 am. Classes are held in person and will follow the health and safety guidelines in place at that time. We plan to have approximately five sessions. The class will not meet on Sunday, April 17, which is the second day of Passover.

I look forward to seeing you for these fun and informative classes.

Hazzan Weber

FROM OUR ADMINISTRATOR

I hope you joined us for our Groovin' With Queen Esther Purim Party. If you were not able to be with us, I hope you watched the Beatles Shpiel online. Whether you were here or not, the pictures in this bulletin give you a glimpse of the fun. We had 50 – 70 people in attendance, fantastic food, and a wonderful magician. If you took your picture in the VW bus, thank Fani Kiselstein!

As we begin to return to full in-person functionality, we have a few things to remember. First, be kind to everyone. Whether you believe that wearing a mask is no longer needed or you continue to wear one for your comfort – be kind to one another.

Second, I may be approaching my two-year anniversary, but this is my first month of "back to normal" for CAS. I appreciate your patience and kindness as I navigate how CAS works daily, how CAS serves others, and how CAS serves God and the community.

We have a couple of opportunity updates, and I need your help to make the most of them. April 3rd beginning at 9 AM, is our cemetery workday where we will plant flowers, clean up the Chapel outdoor prayer garden, paint row numbers, maybe have time to work on the front entryway.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Spring has Sprung! It's hard to believe that we have already made it to this beautiful time of year after such a gloomy Winter. As we look forward to Spring with Passover just around the corner, it feels great to be able to meet with our family and friends again after a long hiatus due to Covid. I think Covid will always provide us a new timeline in our current lives; before, during, and after...

What a wonderful service, schpiel, and fun time at Purim! I enjoyed seeing our kids having so much fun (including the adults). It was a great feeling to know that we can get back into our spiritual home here at CAS. The journey has been long and arduous, but here we are. It feels good to be able to plan events and see our lifelong friends with hopes of meeting new ones.

Passover is always a wonderful time for our family, one that brings our family together with hopes for a new understanding of our history and encouragement for our future. We must remember where we came from and where we are going. This year will be a very different type of Passover for Ukraine, one of uncertainty and fear. The conflict has been going on for years for the Jewish people and as we celebrate our Passover Seders, let us pray for our fellow brothers and sisters around the world who cannot even pray or enjoy such great traditions of our Jewish heritage.

As we move forward not only with daylight savings time but also with our Shul, our congregation met with Lake Flato Architects and has seen the options we have ahead of us. Like other synagogues across the United States, we are facing many challenges. We are not alone in our issues of keeping and maintaining our Jewish way of life and spiritual home. I have faith that we will be able to move forward and continue another 120 years of this congregation with love for our Shul. Let us all work together to devise solutions and not fumble over disagreements. We are a Jewish community, and we will continue to be a family of families here at Ahavath Sholom.

B'Shalom,
Foster Owen, President

ADMINISTRATOR (CONTINUED)

Many hands make light work! We also have the B'nai B'rith Person of the Year brunch on June 12th and Congregation Annual Meeting on June 26th. At this time, both events are in-person. And if you were wondering, Joshua Nelson is rescheduled to be in Fort Worth for Dr. Martin Luther King Day 2023. We are working on a fundraising evening event to be held in November.

If you have any ideas for projects & activities or would like to volunteer for a project or activity, please let me know. I want you to be involved in what happens at CAS.

Pattie Wood, Administrator

LEARNING & ENGAGEMENT CENTER

As we write this article, the month of Adar (the month of celebration and happiness) is coming to a close. We are about to celebrate Rosh Hodesh Nisan, the month of the Exodus from Egypt. During these past few weeks, the LEC carried out its planned curriculum and celebrated Purim.

On March 6th, we had our big Purim party. "Thank you," to all the parents that sent donations and helped us fulfill the Purim Mitzvot! There are several special things we did during our Purim Festival:

- We read Megillat Esther (The book of Esther) and sang Purim songs with the kids.
- All the kids filled their bags with treats and candies.
- Each child also made a grogger (Rahashan) and Hamantaschen.

The kids were very excited with the Balloon artist that shaped balloons into all kinds of forms while they were getting glitter tattoos.

A big shout out to Rabbi Bloom, Hazzan Weber, Rich Hollander, Maria Loya, Michal Bloom, Alana and Beau Tinin, Jennifer Levi, our teachers, TAs, and our students for helping us make the Purim party possible.

Starting this school year, we begin each session by gathering for Havdalah first thing in the morning. We have done so, so far, and plan to continue to do so all year long, as it provides a sense of community. A different class leads the Havdalah each week.

Judaica studies are taught based on the ISJL curriculum for Judaica. Hebrew is taught based on the books: "Sarah, David, and You Read Hebrew." This series has three levels as it continues to build the student's reading and writing skills.

On Friday, April 8th, at 6:00 PM, we will have a Siddur ceremony for our students in grades 3-7. The Siddur Ceremony is a significant and beautiful Jewish rite of passage. We ritualize the experience of giving our students their first adult Siddurim to convey how significant this moment is in the Jewish life cycle. The children will participate in the service and their parents will present them with a Siddur.

We wish you a happy Pesach celebration! And much more to celebrate this spring!

Best regards,
Morah Fani and Morah Inbal

Cemetery Workday
9 AM Sunday, April 3rd

Spring is around the corner; it is a time for renewal! The Cemetery Committee is looking for volunteers to help refresh and refurbish the cemetery. Anyone interested in assisting with this project should meet at the CAS Cemetery at 9 AM on Sunday, April 3rd.

Below is a list of some of the projects/tasks that need completing:

- Paint row numbers
- Clean out, mulch, and replace plants
- Spruce up and uncover grave markers
- Move stones on top of markers
- Clean debris along the fence line
- Treat ant mounds
- Any other projects as time permits

The committee would like to accomplish as many of these tasks as possible.

PURIM EXTRAVAGANZA 2022

On March 16th, CAS members gathered for the Megillah reading and Groovin' with Queen Esther! This year's Purim program was held indoors and included great 1960s-themed fun ranging from a Beatles Purim Shpiel to decorations and finger foods from the decade. The magician mesmerized the kids with his stage show (how did he do that?), and the costume parade was groovy!

Thank you to those who donated toys to fill Queen Esther's toy box. We collected small, new stuffed animals for Alana's Gift, an organization that supplies first responders with stuffed animals to give to children during response calls.

Thank you to Maria Loya for the delicious food and great table decorations!

Thank you to the Ladies' Auxiliary for providing Purim baskets for each family in attendance.

A very special Thank You to Fani Kiselstein and her Lil Goldman students for creating and constructing the VW Bus Photo Prop. It was a blast!

THANK YOU TO
FANI KISELSTEIN
AND
HER LIL GOLDMAN
CLASS

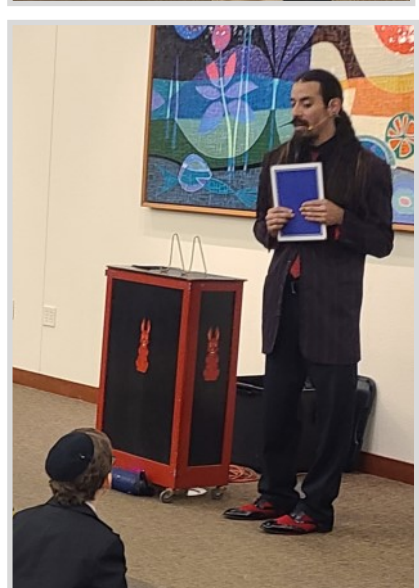

FOR CREATING
THE GROOVY
