Carry your purse close to your body. Place one end of the purse in the palm of your hand and the other in the bend of the elbow. Never carry a purse by the handle or wrap the strap around your body.

Cantor Paul Dorman

Hi Y'all! I just want you to know I'm having a terrific time working here and spending time with your wonderful community. Everyone has been so welcoming, helpful and generous. Thank you.

On Friday Night May 12th, we're having a "Rockin' Ruach Shabbat" Friday Night Musical Service. There'll also be a very affordable dinner beforehand. This is for the entire family. A family of one or twenty. From the littlest to the oldest. We're even making arrangements to care for the littlest ones so the older ones can all participate and enjoy the service. Notice I used the word "participate". This is a service not a show. I'm happy to do a show for you another time. I want you all there participating and singing your hearts out. If you liked our Second Night seder don't miss this.

What would really be great is if you brought your friends. Show them how a dinner and service at Ahavath Sholom can be both meaningful and fun. What a great way to introduce them to Ahavath Sholom and have a great time with them.

I'm originally from New Jersey, right outside of Manhattan. I've been a cantor for over twenty years and have been living in LA for most of them. I've sung in many synagogues, temples and on stages around the country. Before becoming a cantor I was in the entertainment business. Years ago, back in LA, I was a cantor at Sinai Temple. A very large conservative synagogue that uses the name temple. I helped create and ran for the first year, the original "Friday Night Live". It's a once a month service that averaged between 1500 and 2000 congregants. I know we can fill our shul to overflowing.

Don't worry about what you and your friends know or don't know. I fill in explanations as we go along so you can feel right at home. Your job is to come, bring your friends and have a meaningful and FUN time.

I know the Catering Committee is planning for a wonderful evening. Look for the information and make sure to plan to be there. And make sure you all come up to me afterwards and introduce yourself. I would love to see and meet you all!

- May 7th— Last LEC session for the academic year.

Ahnyela Williams LEC Graduating Senior

LEC Principal Fani Kiselstein

April was a very busy month for the LEC students, filled with holidays, memorial days, activities, and special LEC family weekends.

On April 2nd the LEC students started their day at school making Charoset for the mock Seder and to share with their families. Later in the day, we illustrated to the kids the experience of the Exodus out of Egypt.

A mock seder is a great way to involve all the students in preparation for Passover. It allows everyone to become familiar with the seder's structure and the various components of the meal. Additionally, it can be an excellent opportunity for students to discuss the holiday's meaning and what it represents.

In addition to the mock seder, another important aspect of Jewish history this month is the Holocaust memorial. The Holocaust Museum in Dallas provides a poignant reminder of the atrocities committed against the Jewish people during World War II. Visiting the museum was a powerful experience that allows individuals to gain a deeper understanding of the Holocaust's impact on the Jewish people and the world at large.

The museum exhibits a range of artifacts and information about the Holocaust, including photographs, personal belongings, and stories of those who lived through the experience. Visiting the museum helps our students connect with the history of the Jewish people and gain a sense of the resilience and strength from those who survived.

Finally, family Shabbat is a weekly observance that occurs on Friday night and Saturday morning. The Shabbat is a time for families to come together, light candles, recite prayers, and share a meal. It is a time for relaxation and reflection, allowing individuals to disconnect from the stresses of daily life and connect with their faith and community.

In conclusion, Passover, the Holocaust Museum Day-trip, and the family of Shabbat are all essential components of Jewish culture and history. They provide opportunities for individuals to connect with their faith and themselves, their history, and their community. By participating in these events, individuals can ask questions, deepen their understanding of their religion, and gain a sense of the resilience and strength of the Jewish people throughout the ages.

On a personal note, I would like to share with you Mr. Dan Gardner's kind and wise words to the B'nai Mitzvah class ahead of their visit to Holocaust Museum in Dallas.

Today is an important day, as you as young Jews visit the Dallas Holocaust and Human Rights Museum. Across the globe, antisemitism is on the rise; I first experienced it as a 6th grader, just like you. And although I hope you never experience it in your lifetime, someday, somehow...you will. You will experience hate and intolerance, neither of which have any place in a civilized world. And yet they persist.

Many of you may choose to be silent on matters of antisemitism and racism during your journey into adulthood. It certainly may seem easier. But evil only grows when we do not speak out against it. Each of you, and all of you, have an important role to play. I am reminded of a poem written by Pastor Martin Niemoller who wrote the statement "First they came...." It goes like this:

First, they came for the Socialists, and I did not speak out—

Because I was not a Socialist.

Then they came for the Trade Unionists, and I did not speak out—

Because I was not a Trade Unionist.

Then they came for the Jews, and I did not speak out—

Because I was not a Jew.

Then they came for me—and there was no one left to speak for me.

When World War II ended, and when millions of Jews (and many others) were exterminated in mass genocide, many people, including my grandfather, promised to Never Forget.

When September 11th happened, the heroes performed myriad acts of bravery, and once the rubble was cleared, many people in my generation promised to Never Forget.

Today, we must all promise to Never Forget what it means to be decent human beings. Our resolve must be stronger than steel...because without it, we are at the mercy of forces that might seek to do us harm, and if not us, then those we know, those we love. Freedom is not free. Peace is not guaranteed. And life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness is not always a given.

*Regards,
Dan Gardner*

We would like to express our gratitude to Dan Gardner and Autumn Demaris for helping make this important educational experience happen. As another school year is coming to an end, on May 7th the LEC students and teachers will conclude the year with a ceremony and fun activities.

B'Shalom,

Fani Kiselstein
LEC Principal

President Foster Owen

"IT TOOK A VILLAGE"

I was always fascinated by Hillary Clinton's book, "It Takes a Village". The concept of villages and how the people survived since ancient times by working together has always reminded me of tikkun olam, Our Jewish pursuit of repairing the world. In improving and helping others we simultaneously bring honor to G-d's sovereignty.

While my time as president has been brief, I have always felt like our village was CAS, and it was my duty to further our spirituality and kinship as a congregation. I have felt a need to let our congregants know they are always welcome to be here at the synagogue and hope by doing so, they would feel like it could be a second home. It's hard to believe two years have already passed. When I started my term as president, I wondered how we were ever going to get back to "normal". The Rabbi and Cantor held services isolated in the Rashti Chapel and with the help of Zoom we managed to put our voice out there and tried extremely hard to move forward. At that time, there was a constant struggle with Covid protocols and practices. We had to make decisions that were not always popular, but necessary. These were difficult times. We never wanted to alienate our congregation or make anyone feel uncomfortable. Our goal, like many synagogues across the world, was to help protect our congregants, keep our own Jewish community as safe as possible, and continue to bring spirituality to each person during the trying times. It's been a long journey but I am happy to say, we are back!! Morning minyans and Shabbat services attendance are up. We are offering kiddush lunches again thanks to many generous sponsors, and the increase in many other activities inspired us to create some new policies for catering and facility use, to accommodate everyone. Much thanks and appreciation go to our many committees, also including Maria, Gabriel, Angyl, Fani, and Suzi for all their hard work that has been done to get us here.

We are excited to see the trend of new members and young families joining our membership. We are all committed to having a place for all who want to be here.

I cannot even begin to mention the numerous people who helped me along the way, but have to start with Rich Hollander, our past President, who has been a mentor to me from the beginning. And our incoming President, Hal Ratner. Hal immediately joined us with a can-do attitude and helped every step of the way with our board. I feel very blessed to have the support of so many people who at every stage, every corner have been there to help and encourage.

With an abundance of experience, our CAS board of directors have brought a wealth of knowledge and expertise to the synagogue. All our directors have shown concern and made the effort to make the shul a better place for our whole congregation. There are almost 20 different committees that manage, work and benefit all aspects of the daily business of our synagogue. Thank you to the entire board, and all of the committees who do all the work in the background to help our community move forward for our common cause to become a "Family of Families".

And more thanks go to Rabbi Bloom for helping me with the hard times and trying his best to come up with answers when sometimes there just are not any, Rabbi Zimelman for bringing his grace and many years of experience to our synagogue, and to Coleman Shickman who stepped right in when we needed him and has brought so much Nachas to our services.

One proud moment of my presidency was to help officiate an incredible conversion of a wonderful family, which reminded me of my own conversion many years ago. Their love for Judaism is beautiful, contagious and inspiring. As new members of our congregation they are helping us all in many ways and make me very proud they are a part of this shul.

In the end I also could not have managed all of my duties and responsibilities without the love and support of my beautiful wife, Marla. She has always been there to listen and to help support me all along this journey. As most congregants know, I have a large extended family who are always supportive and willing to help in any way I needed or whenever I asked for their help. I am one lucky gentleman who will ever be grateful for my experiences and times here as President.

B'shalom,
Foster Owen

Samuel Kaplan Bar Mitzvah

Samuel Kaplan was called to the Torah and became a Bar-Mitzvah on April 15th, 2023. We, Ruthye and Jay Kaplan, his parents, are proud of his achievement and would like to introduce him to the congregation.

Samuel was born and raised in Los Angeles, California. In February of 2021, at 11 years old, he relocated to Ft. Worth. He quickly adapted academically in school and to his new life in Texas. Samuel made new friends quickly because of his kind heart and delightful sense of humour.

Samuel has flourished in his religious studies, which have helped enhance his strong moral compass. He enjoyed his Mitzvah project that benefited Unbound

Now, an organization that assists victims of human trafficking. Samuel decided to collect and donate stuffed animals because the director of Unbound Now explained how these items are therapeutic and help heal the emotional scars in children and adults.

Samuel has expressed an interest in continuing his Jewish studies. We look forward to supporting him in his continued growth within the congregation.

Office Administrator Angyl McCool

May is my very favorite month of the year. I love celebrating Mother's Day and all of the amazing ladies in my life, my Grandmothers, my Mother, and my Aunties!

Mothers come in many different forms. Whether you are a Grandmother, Biological Mother, Adoptive Mother, or an Aunt, thank you for being Mom!

As a Mom, there are no days off, no sick days, and no return policies! However, it is a precious gift and blessing.

How will you celebrate the ladies in your life this year? No matter who they are or what you do to celebrate them, say thank you for all they do!

Bessings,

Angyl McCool
